Letter from the Editor

I love new things, shiny things, well-made things and fashionable things. I'd go as far as to say that I'm pretty good at finding those things before everyone else has. If you're anything like me, you're probably always on the lookout for the next cool this or that. But you're probably also busy, and don't have time to search the internet, storefronts and yard sales all day.

That's why we created All Sorts. This beautiful catalog in your hands is your guide to incredible products that fill a need (or a want) in your life. We scoured the internet and invited awesome brands that we love, and that we think you'll love too, to be a part of this issue.

The following pages contain special offers on a variety of products for living, working, and playing. You'll even get to know some of the brand founders, which to be honest, makes what they're selling all the more special.

You're lucky. This is our first edition, and it's only being sent to 50,000 homes in New York City. We're starting small but we have big plans. If you like what you're seeing, please share these pages with your friends. It would mean the world to us.

MMANN Candles

MMANN Candles ~ quirky, one of a kind & natural candles hand poured in Toronto, Canada. After working in retail & sales for 14 years, founder, Monika Mann, finally transitioned her passion into a full-time career during the pandemic.

MMANN Candles is supported by a community of beautiful humans and is 100% Woman of Colour owned. They're just these perfect little candles that reflect back our humanness in a beautiful, authentic way. Every Candle is made by hand with love and authenticity. It sounds corny, but the candles represent and extend into something bigger: they represent each of us in our perfectly imperfect humanness. Some of them melt weird, sometimes they develop a little frost, sometimes the colour is a little bit more unique than others, but the truth is, they're honest.

“ I worked very hard for other amazing people and companies and often wondered what would happen if I put in that same work for myself?

The days are much longer, the work is much harder, but the payoff of being my own boss and doing exactly what makes me happy truly outweighs any of those fears that used to hold me back.
